TWENTY SHIPS ON MISSING LIST

Have Disappeared Within Last Year Without Leaving Trace

WERE ON ATLANTIC

State Department Gives Details of Schooner Deering—Foul Play Suspected—Messages In Battle.

Washington, June 22.—The mystery of the missing ships along the Eastern Coast of the United States and other parts of the Atlantic Ocean was intensified last night when the Department of Commerce issued a list showing that 20 vessels have disappeared within the last year, without leaving a trace of wreckage or any of their crew to explain the fate of the hips.

Two of the vessels, the Spanish steamer Yute, bound from Baltimore for Dunkirk, and the Russian bark Albyon, from Norfolk for Gothenberg, vanished about the time the four masted American schooner Carroll A. Deering went ashore off the North Carolina coast.

Nearly all of the 20 ships listed as missing by the Department of Commerce were on voyages across some portion of the Atlantic.

Reference was made to one of these vessels by State Department officials in connection with a statement issued by the department this morning, applying particularly to the case of the schooner Deering, which was beached with all sails set on Diamond Shoals last January after the officers and crews had been seized, apparently, by some piratical or hostile force. This statement says:

"On January 29, 1921, the American schooner Carroll A. Deering, sailing at the rate of about five miles per hour, passed Cape Lookout lightship, N. C., and on January 31 it was found a few miles north of that point in such condition that there is every suspicion of foul play The vessel cleared for Norfolk, Va. from Rio Janeiro, and put into Barbadoes for orders, proceeded on its voyage. After passing Cape Lookout lightship the vessel was not again seen until it was found as a wreck, and nothing has been heard from the members of the crew. The master of the vessel, Captain Wormell, is reported to have been experienced as a navigator and very reliable.

"At the time the Carroll A. Deering passed Cape Lookout lightship a man on board other than the captain hailed the lightship and reported that the vessel had lost both anchors and asked to be reported to his owners. Otherwise the vessel appeared to be in very good condition. A short time after the schooner passed the lightship a steamer, the name of which cannot be ascertained, which was passing was asked to stop and take a message for forwarding And in spite of numerous attempts on the part of the master of the lightship to attract the vessel's attention no response to his efforts was received.

"On April 11, 1921, the following message was picked up in a bottle near Cape Hatteras:

"Deering captured by oil burning boat, something like chaser. Taking off everything, handcuffing crew, crew hiding all over ship. No chance to escape. Finder please notify headquarters of Deering.

"The Carroll A. Deering carried a motor lifeboat and a dory, but neither of them have been picked up and no record of them has been found. Most of the provisions, clothing and supplies had been removed."

The case of the Spanish steamship Yute, one of the additional craft which have never been accounted for, is particularly interesting, according to such information as the Government has.

This vessel, it seems, while off the North Carolina coast, sent out S O S cal's, asking for assistance and giving her location. Coast guard cutters were hurried to the rescue of the ship, but when they arrived no sign of her was to be seen and to this day no wreckage or lifeboats or dead bodies have been found to explain her disappearance.

Memorial Park

Manassas Battlefield To Be Taken Over By Confederates

Washington, D. C., June 22.—Plans were outlined here yesterday for a Confederate memorial park on the site of the battle of Manassas, along the Lee highway, thirty miles from Washington—the "first distinctive Confederate memorial."

Plans for raising $50,000, the estimated cost of the 128 acre tract, and of a mureum and other buildings, were put underway by the finance board of the Manassas Battlefield Confederate Park, Inc., meeting in the Southern Building.

The memorial is described as "the Gettysburg of the South." On the proposed tract most of the first battle of Manassas was fought and the second battle of Manassas was closed. The site is near Manassas, Warrenton and Fairfax Court House, consisting of upland meadow and woodlands and is rich in natural beauty and historical significance. A charter for the memorial granted by the State of Virginia, provides the park shall be established "in memory of the brave dead and wounded of both armies who fought in said battles; and that said land may stand a perpetual park as the South's tribute to all Confederate soldiers of the war and as an expression of Southern love and admiration of the glorious and devoted women of the South during that dread era!"

Inauguration of the fund raising campaign will be made July 21, the anniversary of the battle of Manassas, when a celebration will be held on the proposed site. Clarence J. Owens, director general of the Southern Commercial Congress and chairman of the finance board of the memorial, and Representative R. Walton Moore, of Virginia, will speak on this occasion. Major E. W. R. Ewing, president of the memorial incorporation, will preside.

COUNCIL DEFEATS VETO OF MAYOR

Appropriation Bill Now Operative Despite Mayor's Veto

SPECIAL MEETING

Council Notified That State Corporation Commission on July Will Take Up—W. Va., Trolley Fare Increase

The veto of Mayor J. M. Duncan to the annual appropriation bill was defeated last night by both branches of the city council at a special meeting. In the lower board Councilman Fletcher voted to sustain the mayor and twelve other councilmen voted to sustain the bill. In the board of aldermen the vote for the bill was 8 to 0. The appropriation bill now becomes a law notwithstanding the mayor's veto.

Before taking action on the bill the signature of the president of the board of aldermen to the bill was obtained, the mayor stating in his communication that the president of the upper branch had failed to sign the bill.

President Burke when council convened explained that the bill is only a forecast of the supposed revenue of the city.

Councilman Ticer, chairman of the finance committee, explained the seriousness of the veto to the bill. Without its enactment he said the auditor has no authority to sign warrants for any money unless a loan is enacted and coupons of bonds cannot be paid. This he stated also would prevent all city employees from being paid off, including policemen and firemen and others. He expressed hope that council would pass the measure over the mayor's veto.

President Burke said the failure of the city to pay its bond coupons would prove a serious blow at this time. Councilman McCaffrey thought the inability of the city employes to get their pay more important than the interest coupons.

Councilman Fletcher asked if the mayor was called into conference when the appropriation bill was considered. It was stated that he was not.

Councilman Baggett stated that the members of the finance committee had worked hard on this bill and they should be sustained and upon motion of Mr. Baggett the vote was then taken with the foregoing result.

A communication was received from Corporation Attorney H. Noel Garner setting forth that he had been notified that on July 1 at 10 o'clock in the morning a public hearing would be held before the state corporation commission in Richmond on the application of the Washington-Virginia Railway Company for authority to make the same advances in passenger fares and commutation tickets applicable to journeys between points in Virginia as authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission and the matter was referred to the finance committee.

Bill of Corporation Attorney Garner for $80.13 for record in Washington-Virginia rate case was referred to the finance committee.

Dr. L. E. Foulks, city health officer sent a communication expressing his thanks for the honor bestowed on him by re-electing him health officer of the city for the third consecutive year and it was accepted.

Request of colored residents for permission to open cemetery on the north side of Wilkes between Payne and West streets was referred to the street committee.

LUNATIC BESIEGES TOWN; WOUNDS 3 WITH BULLETS

Buffalo, N. Y., June 22.—Three persons were wounded today when Frank Fisher, farmer, held the main street of Oakfield, thirty miles east of here, for an hour, firing with a rifle at pedestrians. He was captured after he had used all his ammunition.

Fisher was released from a State Hospital for the insane a year ago.

Building In Suburbs

Several Houses North of City Now Nearing Completion

There is considerable building activify just now in the territory directly north of Alexandria. E. J. Camoe has in course of construction four ten dwelling houses on Linden Avenue in Del Ray, which he expects to have ready for occupancy within the next 30 days.

M. J. McFarland is completing a handsome brick dwelling house on Washington avenue, North Braddock

I. E. Cannon is finishing two houses on Linden street, Rosemont, Each house contains eight rooms. One will be occupied by Mr. Cannon and one by Walter Clemm. Each house contains eight rooms, baths and pantries.

Ground was broken this afternoon for the construction of a third house on the same street by Mr. Cannon.

A five room bungalow is being erected on Washington avenue North Braddock. It is expected that the house will be completed within the next week and it will be occupied by Mr. Goings.

Senator Mathews on Trinkle

Richmond, Va., June 22.—"Trinkle will carry every county in the Second District," predicted State Senator E. C. Mathews of Norfolk, at Trinkle headquarters here today. "Portsmouth will go for him. In Norfolk, the fight will be close, with Trinkle gaining steadily."

"Norfolk business men liked the Senator's speech in that city. Many anticipated him a stranger to their interests. They found him highly appreciative of the value of a greater Hampton Roads. 'Your problem is not a local one,' he told them, 'but one that materially affects my own section. Most of our coal and cattle is not handled, as in the Valley section, by train facilities to northern parts, but is shipped direct to Hampton Roads. Ours is a mutual interest.'

"Practical business men like the Senator's sane, business policy, and broad-minded, progressive women approve his stand on the measures of the day," concluded Senator Mathews

BELLS AND 'PHONES CALL FARMERS TO FIRE

Egg Harbor, N. J., June 22.—The tolling of the public school bell and telephone calls this afternoon called farmers in Germania to fight a forest fire that threatened to destroy a number of houses. More than 200 acres of timberland was destroyed.

Sims Back Again

Talkative Admiral Declines to Make Statement

New York, June 22.—Wearing civilian clothes featured by a soft green hat, Admiral William Snowden Sims, apparently in a cheerful confident mood and in the best of health, arrived on the liner Olympic today and without any demonstrations of hostility and but a few of friendship marking his arrival, proceeded immediately by automobile to the Pennsylvania station and boarded a train for Washington at 11.08.

The only statement he made here indicated that he has no fear of having his distinguished naval career abruptly ended as a result of his "jackass speech" in London which brought about his recall by Secretary of the Navy Danby.

"After seeing the Secretary of the Navy," he said, just before his train was due to depart, "I expect to go to Newport to resume my duties as president of the War College."

Earlier, when coming up the bay, he had declined to make any statement on his now famous anti-Sinn Fein utterances and their consequences, though he said he expected to have a statement to make after he had seen Secretary Denby. In the forthcoming statement, he added, he would cover the whole subject thoroughly.

CHARGE BLACKHANDS FIRED POOLROOM

Wilmington, Del., June 22.—According to the authorities, a fire in a poolroom of J. Davolos, at Eighth and Madison streets, yesterday morning was of incendiary origin and was probably a Black Hand plot.

There was an explosion in the place and two or more men dashed away in an automobile just as the fire was discovered.

The place had been sprinkled with oil by the explosion. Two firemen were slightly injured in fighting the fire and several families with a number of children had to be rescued from the upper portion of the building.

It is a capital crime in Delaware to set fire to a building in which people are living or meeting."

BAPTISTS GO TO CHERRYDALE

Attend Meeting of Federation at That Place

About fifty members of the B. Y. P. U., of the First Baptist Church, attended a meeting of the Federation at Cherrydale last night. The crowd was so great from Washington and vicinity that it was necessary to leave the Baptist Church there and have an open air meeting. A large auto truck was secured and furnished facilities for an ideal straw ride for the young people from Alexandria.

Hon. Wm. D. Upshaw, U. S. Congressman from Atlanta, made a rousing speech on Civil and Religious Liberty. He spoke of the great Colonial leaders who lived in Northern Virginia, who made the First Consiitutional Amendment possible. He gave large place to the heroic young Baptist preacher Jeremiah Moore, who rather than surrender conviction, had allowed himself to be placed in the old Colonial jail of Alexandria.

The First Paptist Church of this city was established as a memorial to his martyrdom to religious liberty.

In the election of officers for the Federation of Baptist Young People, Mr. Clinton Brown, of this city, was elected vice president, and Miss Sadie Pitts, secretary.

SEIZE 35 GALLONS OF CORN LIQUOR

Driver of Mail Truck Containing Hooch Escapes

HELD FOR GRAND JURY

Two Colored Men Say Trunks Containing Liquor Left at Union Station Yesterday

Thirty-five gallons of corn liquor, estimated by the police to be worth about $700, was catured by the police today and two colored men taken in custody and held for the action of the grand jury. The whisky was in three kegs each containing twenty, ten and five gallons respectively. It arrived at Union passenger station yesterday afternoon in two big trunks and the trunks were filled with straw and the kegs wrapped in burlap.

The police got wind of the affair and kept close watch. Shortly before 8 o'clock this morning the trunks were placed aboard a mail truck alleged to have been driven by Dennis Harris colored, Policemen Carlton A. Padgett and Miller were on the scene and the truck was intercepted by Policeman Padgett while Policeman Miller waited to capture others at the station. As the truck was driven down King street with Policeman Padgett beside the driver, the driver leaped from the truck at King and Henry streets and ran like a deer northward pursued by the officer who fired two shots at him. The truck in the meantime crashed into a telegraph pole. Harris escaped.

Policemen Lunsford and Magner in the meantime placed two colored men giving the names of H. C. Smith and John Jackson, porters at the union railway station under arrest, and the case was called before Justice Snow and after hearing the evidence he held both for the action of the grand jury and fixed their bond at $500 each. Two young white men employed as express drivers, were held as witnesses in the case.

In brief Jackson told the court that a white man unknown to him gave him the checks yesterday afternoon and told him they would be called for. Not being called for at the appointed time witness said he became suspicious and decided to have the contents of the trunks dumped into the river. Smith gave practically the same testimony, adding he sugested to Jackson to get rid of the trunks. Jackson also told the court that four similar trunks arrived at the Union station last Friday and were taken away by a white man in a truck.

The police are of the opinion that a number of other persons are implicated in this case and that there is a whisky ring in Alexandria that has been reaping a harvest off the sale of the hooch and they are in the wholesale business.

Further arrests in this case are anticipated and the police hope to be able to gather in far more evidence in the case than was cited at the preliminary hearing this morning.

TUCKER OFFICERS RESIGN

Howard W. Smith, chairman of the Tucker organization in Alexandria, and Frederick G. Duvall, secretary, have resigned their positions. Mayor James M. Duncan will be in charge of the Tucker campaign here, and it is understood that he has appointed H. Noel Garner, corporation attorney, as secretary. The Dreadnaught Hall, it is stated, will be used as headquarters of the Tucker organization.

Pliny the Elder.

Newspaper Sewage

It is to be regretted that many of the newspapers of the country seem to think that the publication of salacious scandals is news. The uncovering of dishonesty in public office is news; the publication of the commission of crimes against the law is news; the printing of the happening of any event, anywhere, of general legitimate interest, is also news. But the distortion of any or all of these things out of its true perspective is not news. Especially the exaggeration of those licentious happenings which appeal only to the prurient. This can do only harm in spreading before the eyes of the immature and ignorant those things which common decency requires to be hidden from public gaze. The immature and the ignorant are not old enough or wise enough to have formed a correct concept of the scheme of human life. They are apt to have entirely erroneous ideas of its relative values. They must be guided in their reading; they must be taught the difference between the true and the false; they must be educated up to the point where their judgment can be based upon the great principles which underlie all social and moral ethics.

There was a Frenchman some years ago, Emile Zola, who in his time was one of the world-famous writers. His novels were translated into many languages, and he was looked upon as the leader of the so-called realists. His writings were brutal and disgusting. He delved with a dark lantern among the moral sewers of Paris, photographed what he saw, and gave it out as an example of what all literature should be. The trouble was that he only photographed; and his camera was placed so near the obscene subjects he chose to depict that they were magnified out of all proportion to the rest of human life. A mechanical photograph can never be a work of art; because that must have some impress of the human spirit.—There must be some kinship between it and the Divine. We have had many photographers in fiction, who have achieved an evanescent fame—our own Howells among the number. But their glory is as brief as a summer's day. Zola has long been forgotten, as he should be. Howells and his ilk, although clean and wholesome, will likewise pass into the darkness of total obscurity, because they were photographers and not artists.

A newspaper must always be, more or less, a photographic camera. Its English is known as newspaper English, just because there is never time, and not often the talent, to give it the artistic touch that would make it literature. But this should make it all the more careful in its reproductions of the daily events current in the world. There must be discretion, and large discretion, in the placing of its camera so as not to emphasize the little and unimportant things beyond their true values. There must be perspective, if not atmosphere.

The trouble with the so-called yellow journals is that they do not make these distinctions. Everything is grist that comes to their rapacious jaws. They achieve, for a time, success, but ultimately they go down to destruction as surely as that truth and morality will always prevail in the end.

All of which is apropos of the disgusting details that have been appearing in some of the newspapers for months past as to the Stillman and Stokes family matters. This may well be called newspaper sewage. It has no bearing on our national life of today, which, on the whole, is clean and decent. As for the actors in these incontinent scandals, if we can temper loathing with pity, so much the better. Dante, in his Inferno, graphically depicts their abode in a future life. But we believe they are already domiciled in that grisly realm which has, inscribed at its entrance: "All hope abandon, ye who enter here."

Blast Kills 80 in German Mine

Berlin, June 22.—The mining town of Herne, Westphalia, is stricken by one of the worst mine disasters ever experienced in Germany, and pitiful scenes are being enacted at the mouth of the mine pit in which an explosion of gas and the ensuing fire killed at least eighty breadwinners and injured a still larger number. More than eighty men have been brought out of the mine, badly burned, suffering from gas or wounded by the force of the explosion.

It is believed that a large number of men known to be still in the mine are dead. Rescued men report that a great many wounded remain in the darkened levels where the gases are gaining, owing to the failure of the fans. Fires are burning adding to the horrors faced by those confined in the tunnels. Some of the rescued were so badly burned that it was only with great difficulty that they could be brought to the surface.

The wives of the missing men congregated around the mouth of the pit with their children, and harrowing scenes were enacted at each appearance of rescuers with a wounded man or the body of a victim. Clergymen attempted to console them. A staff of nurses is at work in the emergency hospital set up to take care of the men as they are carried out.

The couple had planned to be wedded by the Rev. Balvin W. May yard, "the flying parson," but as he is in North Carolina, the marriage service will be read by the Rev. Thomas Williams, of Richmond Hill.

WHY DOES SHE LOOK SO OLD?

This question has been asked about many a woman under thirty, who has married and taken upon herself the cares of a house and young children.

When a woman is suffering from female weakness, bearing down pains, head and back ache and nervous irritation, it is well nigh impossible to attend to her duties and retain the charm and freshness of youth. Must she then struggle on toward the inevitable nervous breakdown or premature old age?

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from such a fate. Thousands of grateful letters from such women testify to the merits of this wonderful root and herb medicine for female ills.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

"I have made a persoanl canvass and can find but three men who will scratch his name in the primary. The Ninth District is for him almost to a unit. With a good vote out, his majority in our district will be 15,000.

MOTOR TRUCK PRICE REDUCTION

International Harvester Notifies Belle Haven Garage

The heaviest and most important reduction of prices recorded in the motor truck industry since the period of readjustment began is announced in advices received today by Belle Haven Garage, International Harvester Company's motor truck dealer in Alexandria from the company's offices at Chicago.

The price reductions, which take effect forthwith, range from $900 on the 10,000 lb. truck to $100 on the 2,000 lb. truck. Prices of cabs, tops, bodies and such accessories are reduced 25 per cent. Commenting on the reductions Mr. Ross said:

"The Harvester company is one of the largest manufacturers of motor trucks in the United States, producing a full line of ten different models from the new 1,500 lb. speed truck to a 10,000 lb. capacity truck.

"The new price list in full is as follows:

Capacity Lbs.	Tire Equipment	New Price	Reduction
10,000	Solid	$3,600	$900
6,000	Truck Cord	2,750	700
4,000	" "	2,395	565
3,000	" "	2,032	393
2,000	" "	1,874	236
6,000	Solid	2,400	400
4,000	"	2,100	300
3,000	"	1,850	200
2,000	"	1,750	100

"As explained by the Company's general officers, these new prices reflect prospective reductions in the cost of production made possible by larger manufacturing facilities, by recent reductions in wages throughout the Harvester factories, by similar reduction in wages, costs and prices among the manufacturer who supply accessories, and by recent recessions in the market price of raw materials.

"These new prices represent every possible economy in production that the Company can see or hope for. The new 1,500 lb. speed truck has been priced in strict accordance with these same economies in production."

ANOTHER ALEXANDRIA CASE

It Proves That There's A Way Out For Many Suffering Alexandria Folks.

Just another report of a case in Alexandria. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Alexandria with Doan's Kidney Pills.

N. W. Simpson, 1513 King street, Alexandria, says: "It was a good many years ago that I first had kidney trouble and I got so I could hardly get out of bed. The pain and misery I went through were terrible. My back was lame and so sore I could hardly touch it. It hurt me to bend over and I had terrible headaches. Some days I was so nervous I would shake like a leaf. The kidney secretions were in bad shape. Sometimes they were scanty and then I would have swelling of my feet. My feet would get twice their natural size and I couldn't get on my shoes. I was all worn out and didn't have the ambition to work. A friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and I got two boxes at Ashton's Drug Store and took them according to directions. They helped me so much I got three more boxes of Doan's and they entirely cured me. Since then I have worked every day and have been in fine health."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Simpson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SO-CALLED COURSES IN "APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY"

By far the most subtle and vicious psychology goldbricks are the so-called courses in "applied" psychology. Such courses of study—guaranteed—will teach how to become and remain permanently healthy, how to become and remain permanently happy, and how to gain wealth! Their "psychology" is seventy-five per cent truism and twenty-five per cent babble in which the expressions "vibrations," "levitation," "thought transferrence," and "universal consciousness" rival "suggestion" and "subconscious mind" in frequency of appearance. A sample is the following: "Oh, yes! I can teach you how to cure gall stones (or any other disease.) I go into that in detail in my classes." In this connection it is necessary to differentiate sharply between those which emphasize the mental side and those which emphasize the physical. There is a good deal to be said for the former, but nothing for the latter. Both, however, are culpable because of their gross misrepresentation of what mind is and of what can be accomplished by mental effort. Even though their teachings run in part counter to those of memory systems, will training systems, and systems for improving and making more attractive ones personality, they are very largely a composite made up of parts of all such systems.

The underlying fallacy of such "applied psychology largely results from a total misapprehension of the mental possibilities of the individual. It appears to stress the misunderstandings of psychology which have been fostered by sensational newspaper stories, in which the startling is so often preferred to the accurate. Both the writers of these stories and the people who are impressed by them are not quite sure whether psychology is a new fraternal organization, a disease, a patent medicine, or the name of a new play. Some seem to believe that mind and brain are the same. It is doubtful whether they make adequate distinction between mind and body.

It Took All the Grit Mason Had To Stick It Out

"Every time I go out on a run now, I feel thankful to Tanlac for I'm convinced it kept me on the job," said William W. Mason, 1924 McClellan St., Philadelphia, for the past nine years a motorman for the Rapid Transit Co.,

"I had stomach trouble in a bad form for three years and was going down hill fast. Nothing I ate agreed with me and after every meal I was sure to have heartburn, dizziness and sometimes awful cramps. I got in such a nervous condition my hand shook like a man with the palsy and at nights my sleep was broken and restless. In the mornings I felt so miserable I used to dread the time to come for me to take out my car, and it took every ounce of grit I could muster to stick until quitting time. Finally I got so weak and was so discouraged I was ready to give up.

"This was my condition when I started taking Tanlac and I owe all my present good health to this wonderful medicine and to nothing else. The first thing it did for me was to whet my appetite and I soon found I could eat anything without fear of bad after-effects. It's a fact, four bottles made a new man out of me. My nerves are quiet, I sleep like a log and wake up in the morning feeling fine. Then I eat a big breakfast and go to work whistling like I used to long ago. If people knew Tanlac like I do the clerks in the drug stores couldn't wrap it up fast enough to supply the demand. It's great."

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria by Edgar Warfield, jr., and good druggists everywhere.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Newport News—The American steamer Eastside, held here for several days following the discovery that nearly five nondred machine guns were aboard while in New York sailed for Dublin with coal. The captain is said to have convinced the Department of Justice representatives that he had no knowledge of the guns.

Virginia's wheat acreage showed an increase of from 692,907 in 1909 to 992,926 in 1919, and an increase in production of from 8,076,988 in 1909 to 11,483,068 in 1919. Figures for oat acreage and production, however, tell a different story, as both a dercease in the decade. In 1909 Virginia farmers sowed 204,455 acres in oats and produced 2, 884,495 bushels as against an acreage of only 134,586 and a production of 1,939,196 bushels in 1919. Virginia harvested in 1919 1 803,370 acres of corn as against 1,860,359 in 1909, a decrease of 56,989 acres of three per cent. Despite the decrease in acreage, however, the production of corn in Virginia in 1919 was 43,228,855 bushels as agaisnt 38,295,141 in 1909, an increase of nearly five million bushels.

Richmond—With the contracts which will be awarded during the remainder of June and during the month of July for the construction of state highways, all the available funds of the state highway department for new construction will have been exhausted, and no further funds will be available for the purpose until the 1922 appropriations are made available, a ccording to a statement made by George P. Coleman, state highway commissioner. "The only funds which are now certain for 1922 for new construction are the proceeds of the mill tax collectable in 1922, which, it is estimated will amount to $1,699,000, one third of the auto tax, estimated to produce $700,000, and the value of convict labor, estimated at $300,000, making a total of $2,600,000 of state funds for new construction. What ever additional funds are provided depend on the action of the federal government and the next general assembly If the same sources of revenue are continued, this would add $2,000,000 of federal aid and $700,000 appropriation from the general assembly, making a grand total of funds to be expended on new construction, if these hopes are realized, of $5,300,000 for 1922, plus any appropriation which may be made by the general assembly for state aid to counties. These are in contrast to generalizing statements made by opponents of a bond issue that Virginia had available upwards of $12,000,000 for road construction in 1921 and will have from $7,000.000 to $8,000,000 available annually in 1922, 1923 and the years to come.

Luray,—Reports from many counties in Northern Virginia indicate that the hay crop of this section will be far below an average. Six weeks ago farmers believed that the crop would be a record breaker. These prospects have been blasted by one of the most destructive droughts that has prevailed in this section for this time of the season in many years. Corn has likewise suffered for rain, though farmers say that its present stage can stand a drought a great deal better than later, when it is "shooting" and tasseling. Garden vegetation has been materially affected by the dry weather.

Richmond—Four stills 2 000 gallons of beer, 40 gallons of whisky, five men and two horses have been captured by federal prohibition officers in the last three days in Charlotte and Lynchburg counties.

Richmond—Four men were arrested last week by the Richmond police in connection with systematic thefts of nearly $200,000 worth of goods stolen from Southern Railway cars during the past two years. Three of the men arrested were railroad employes.

Richmond—Marshall Ferdinand Foche, supreme commander of the allied armies which drove the Germans to the wall, will be invited to visit Richmond and Virginia next fall while in the United States.

IDLE HOUR THEATRE

"Wet Gold," by J. Ernest Williamson, directed by Ralph Ince and distributed by Goldwyn, will be shown at the Idle Hour Theatre Friday and aSturday. It is a tale of two rival factions to recover stolen treasure hidden in an old wreck at the bottom of the sea. The remarkable features of "Wet Gold" are the use of diving suits, a submarine lying on the bottom of the sea as a base of operations, and the uncanny acting of the cast in their roles of searchers of the ocean deep.

Some of the most beautiful scenes in "Wet Gold" were taken at the race track in Havana, Cuba where an old Southerner, who has staked his last cent on a favorite colt and lost, decides to join a ship wrecked castaway, John Cromwell, in the hunt for the stolen treasure that he knows about.

One of the most thrilling incidents shows three men in diving helmets with interral oxygen tanks, starting from the shore in search of the submarine far out on the ocean floor. They walk straight out to sea; finally their heads disappear and we see their progress along the bottom of the ocean to the submarine which they use as their base of operations. "Wet Gold" is one of those pictures that you will talk about for a year.
